

FIRST WEEK OF MAY BRINGS HUGE YAMAHA WEEKEND!

The month of May brings huge events to America's off-road playground, Glen Helen Raceway, beginning with Round Three of the STI QuadX (presented by Yamaha) Series on Saturday, May 2nd, followed by Sunday's Yamaha Spring Series Opener on May 3rd. These two annual series continue to be extremely popular Glen Helen events for quads and UTVs, and motocross bikes, respectively.

A special practice session for quads/UTVs will take place on Friday, May 1st, from 9am to 1pm ($25 per vehicle). The Yamaha Spring Series track will be open for motocross practice on Thursday, April 30th, from 8am to Dusk. Both Series feature live online scoring throughout each event!

Round three of the STI QuadX (presented by Yamaha) Series will feature hole shot awards (for the second round of motos). For information on classes and entries for the QuadX UTV series, check www.quadxseries.com or www.glenhelen.com.

Entries are available online!

The Yamaha Spring Series has $5 off coupons at local dealerships, so check with your local Yamaha dealer for yours! In addition, each rider entered in the Spring Series will receive a 20% discount on tickets for the FMF Glen Helen National! Selected Spring Series class winners will also receive entries to the AMA Amateur Day, so stay tuned for more information on this latest perk!

Gates open both Saturday and Sunday, May 2-3, at 6am; practice begins at 8:30 am with racing to follow! Entry fees for either event are $40 for the amateur classes. Make sure you don't miss these great events! Whether you are a racer or a spectator, Glen Helen offers the finest in Southern California off road and motocross racing!